

Little Equestrians
Horsemanship for Children
Footprints to Hoofprints

A program designed to teach children of all ages about horses and horsemanship. Children will learn safety and responsibility around horses, while becoming confident riders.

During the 1 hour lesson, the student will learn a variety of skills. They will be responsible for taking care of their horse, as well as performing a variety of barn chores. These may include, picking up manure, filling water buckets, grooming the horse, as well as tacking up the horse.

By using the book Starting Riding, by Usborne, I have developed a weekly lesson plan that will take the rider step by step through the process of becoming a confident rider.

If you would like more details on the program, or want information about my instruction, please give me a call.
